

Perfect for the business traveller

Head here for some pampering on a work trip to Delhi

What kind of traveller needs a holiday most but never has the time to take one? The business traveller. Few hotels understand that his needs are very different from that of someone who is traveling for pleasure.

For starters, a business traveller will want to stay in the heart of the city's business center. A scenic view is not on top of his list. He is there for a few days to sign deal, or attend an annual meeting or launch a new branch. He is looking for efficiency and convenience. He needs a hotel that understands his needs. A concierge desk for quick check-in and check-out, a comfortable living environment, table and chair that can function as a work station, good wifi, room service that can provide meals or coffee at a specified time, Quick turnaround dry cleaning, shoe shine service, and a salon and spa with the ability to provide last minute services. A butler to take care of things that he doesn't have time for, is an added blessing. And that is what makes Rad-dison Blu in Delhi-NCR, a haven for the corporate traveler.

Noida's first 5-star deluxe property has launched their all-new MBD Privé Collection, which is a unique address for discerning travelers in Delhi-NCR. The pampering experience begins from the pick-up at the Delhi airport with a chauffeur, who politely offers you water and air-conditioning at the favored temperature, something to read, the radio channel of your choice or silence. Arrive at the hotel and you are escorted straight to the room, where you slip out of your shoes and enjoy a welcome drink all the formalities are taken care of. Each suite comes with a full time butler who will understand all your needs and then quickly gets of the way. He is at your beck and call for the duration of the stay. From taking last minute appointments at the spa, to urgent laundry requirement, from the in-room dining, and from drawing a bath, he is just a call away. And if you have a free day to explore the city or a day trip to Agra to see the Taj Mahal, it will all be arranged.

The MBD Privé Collection gives their guests access to the Privé Lounge, signature amenities, signature aromas, and mood-lighting. The interiors of the elegant rooms are calming and inviting. Every each furniture piece is bespoke and the reclaimed emperor beds with intricate gilt bed wall canopies and throws will redefine comfort. You will awaken to the wonderful tea service in the morning. What a fine way to begin the day.
